

Food Grade Bulk Bags

“The home of performance packaging”

Food Grade Bulk Bags are designed and manufactured for the safe handling of food stuffs

- Custom clean room facility
- Fully certified to ISO22000, BRC & AIB accreditation

What do we mean by safe?

This means the bags have to withstand the rigours of transporting up to 1,500kgs of powdered/granular material safely, and internally they have to be clinically clean.

- Stringent quality checks at all stages
- 100% virgin materials to meet all food standards

Cliffe Packaging's Bulk Bags are:

- ▲ Manufactured from high quality 100% virgin materials
- ▲ Produced in clean room facilities incorporating the latest ultra-sound cutting machines
- ▲ Manufactured with all seams external, so no stitched seams are visible or come into contact with the product the bag has been designed to transport
- ▲ Subject to stringent quality checks through-out all stages of manufacture
- ▲ Vacuumed scrupulously to eliminate any risk of stray fibres entering the inside of the bag

Cliffe Packaging's high standards mean:

- ▲ Light tables at the end of every finishing line
- ▲ Metal detection prior to packing
- ▲ Finished product is packed in sterile conditions using heat treated pallets or plastic if required
- ▲ Fully certified ISO22000 integrated facilities
- ▲ Established facilities are independently assessed and approved by many of Europe's leading food manufacturers
- ▲ Bulk Bags are stored in the UK in food grade warehouse facilities (for call off)

- Finished product stored in food grade warehouse facilities
- Audited by the UK's leading food companies

- Inspection tables at the end of every finishing line
- Metal detection prior to packing

The prime consideration when manufacturing this type of Bulk Bag is to ensure the techniques used in production eliminate any risk of loose fibres or threads entering the food chain.

This is only part of the story. Whilst we understand the need to provide Bulk Bags that meet 'the standard' – we know that availability is just as important.

Cliffe Packaging is an independent company with a reputation for providing excellent service.

We currently hold over £2 million worth of stock, specifically designed to provide a true just-in-time service.

Our commitment to you is based on the knowledge that all parts of the supply chain need to hold real value.

Once established as a supplier we will hold your stock, manage it, provide weekly call off reports and will produce usage figures.

Any issues regarding supply and re-stocking will be highlighted to you for discussion. End of year data for packaging waste regulations will be provided automatically.
